ONE THOUSAND STEPS

The Chinks enticed the cult pack to run at an absolutely awesome location. The pups enjoyed everything they could hope for on a hash. The bunds, bush, rivers and mountains were breath taking. But there was a sad lack of susu, and the overabundance of stairs was exhausting.

Comin' Round the Mountain made a come back along with Mount 'n' Groan, Skywalker, Jessica, Natalie, Rewire, Rutger, Horse's Arse and Double Whammy.

Mega, Thima, Terry, Jenny and Mieke came to perv on the paltry cult mongrels and to observe the hideous antics performed within the cult circle. They'll probably never return nor recover from the horrible ordeal inflicted upon them.

Mount 'n' Groan, Double Whammy, Pinocchio Dick and Garfield were presented with extra large t-shirts for big achievements. Garfield's daughter came from afar to witness her dad's big moment.

Lindsay Salatka showed signs of ageing. There was no sign of Fancy Licker but nevertheless the ungodly cult rituals prevailed. Rosebush and Sam O Nella impersonated world power leaders. Wooden Eye picked his nose, Spook wailed, Winnie bounced around beating his belly, Long 'n' Strong bashed on the loo door, Mount 'n' Groan played with his violin, Wankervitch jerked off and Colonel Bloodknock raced around crazier than usual spraying beer from his mouth at the drunken zealots.

And the Chinks played dominoes.

On On, Snatcher.
